Heidi is still waiting for a few items to wrap up the 2014-2015 fiscal year report.

2. Tonight's Speaker is Don Marsh of CENSE, Coalition of Eastside Neighborhoods for Sensible Energy. Visit www.cense.org for further information on Energize Eastside and the PSE project along 148th Avenue.
3. Committee Reports
 - a. Membership, Heidi Dean. The new fiscal year began on April 1. The Club has 238 members against a goal of 500.
 - b. Newsletter and website, Debra Haraldson. No report.
 - c. Public safety, Jason Leach. He reminded those present that the "Children at Play" signs are not allowed by the City of Bellevue. Details about the can be found at http://www.newporthillscommunityclub.org/blog/?page_id=614
 - d. Shopping center, Heidi Dean. The urban boulevard and art projects are ongoing. The City has installed beautiful landscaping in front of Cloud 9 and more will be going in across the street. The new dog sitting business will be open soon. Pace Produce is closing this weekend and there will be a gathering at the café to say good bye. There is no update on Resonate Pizza and Brewery or the international market. The owner of Cloud 9 reports that she is finally breaking even. There will be some car events held there over the summer.
 - e. Parks Committee. Option one for the Tyler property was submitted to the City, it sent some changes to the committee, it went back to the City, and there is no update at this time.
4. Old Business
 - a. The Multifamily Tax Exemption presentation can be viewed or downloaded from <http://www.newporthillscommunityclub.org/blog/?p=3358>. After five members of the Newport Hills neighborhood addressed the council on March 16 regarding the MFTE (two for, three against), the council decided to put Newport Hills on hold for RTA designation while more community outreach is done to determine if residents are truly interested in revitalizing the shopping center.
 - b. The PSE Energize Eastside project is currently in an environmental review stage.
5. New Business
